PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Trap transfer restrainer cage designed primarily to facilitate injection or other treatment to agitated or fractious cats and other small animals

Also referred to as a 'Crush Cage' or 'Squeeze Box' by veterinary professions, this basket includes a restraining panel allowing the cat to be gently held still so that an intra-muscular injection (or other treatment) may be given. The basket consists of a standard carrying basket fitted with an movable internal partition with running bars attached which extend outside the basket to form handles. In practice, the partition is drawn forward until the animal is held gently but firmly against the basket wall. Held in this position, the handles can be pressed together using only one hand whilst the injection may be administered with the other. Carry cage with fully adjustable internal partition which can be extended or retracted through out the full length of the cage.
